

Software engineering Internship

IOM, with the support of the Belgian and Tunisian Government, and in coordination with different partners at national level, will provide a group of targeted Tunisian students and university graduates with concrete opportunities to develop their competences in Belgium, and thus improve their chances of finding an adequate and lasting job in Tunisia.

Presentation of Host Company:

At Showpad, personalities and cultures connect across oceans to create something extraordinary. As a top 10 software company in the Inc. 5,000 Europe list, Showpad is changing the game when it comes to sales enablement. Our employees create the engagement and impact that drives our success as we expand globally.

In the morning, we're drinking San Francisco cold brew coffee with a side of Portland doughnuts – English scones for afternoon tea, and in the evening we're toasting success with Belgian tripel Westmalle to a Chicago house tune.

Field: Engineering in a technology environment

Number of positions: 2

Job Overview:

As a Developer Intern, you will be able to use your talents to bring yourself and Showpad to a higher level. In Web, Backend, Mobile and Devops you can gather knowledge on modern technologies and expand our product features. You will work together with all the engineers and learn best practices while still being able to own your own identity. The good atmosphere in the Developer Team doesn't come in its own, you will have a decisive role in it.

The life of a Software Intern at Showpad:

- Analyze and execute specific projects related to your field of interest and expertise
- Work together with engineers to learn and coach best practices
- Participate in regular team scrums and retrospectives
- Learn our products and their technology stacks

To be successful you need:

- An eye for detail
- Studying at University/College
- Passion for technology and computer science
- The will to have a maximum impact on Showpad
- The desire to grow yourself, your team and the company

What you can expect from Showpad

Focus on Impact and Growth

We are building the future in sales and marketing where every sales person is successful. As an international scaleup, we aim for yearly double digit growth that opens many opportunities. We want people who thrive in a fast-paced, performance-driven company, who are not afraid to stretch themselves in a fun environment, and focus on impact and growth.

Education Level: Engineering degree

Terms of the internship:

- Type of Contract: Internship contract
- Date and duration: 6 months
- Training location: Ghent

To apply for this opportunity, please send your resume and a cover letter: circularmigration@iom.int